To whom it may concern

On behalf of the Scientific and Organising Committee of the 1st International Scientific Conference in the field of Medical and Health Sciences - directions of change and development prospects titled, Interprofessionalism in healthcare we are pleased to invite you to participate in this unique undertaking, which will take place on December 15, 2023 in Płock.

The subject of the Conference discusses the broadly understood directions of change, prospects for development and interprofesjonalism in the field of medical and health sciences as well as in other scientific fields and disciplines. The event covers the directions of development of health services and changes in pre - and postgraduate education system.

The conference is addressed to nurses, midwives, cosmetologists, psychologists, doctors, physiotherapists, dieticians and other professionals in the field of medical and health sciences, students and graduates of these faculties and teachers dealing with health issues as well as everyone interested in health and beauty.

We hope that the conference, in addition to enriching your knowledge base, will enable you to establish strong and lasting professional and scientific relationships, both national and international.

Yours sincerely
